DETAILED ACTION

Status of Application, Amendments, and/or Claims

The amendment filed 1 February 2005 has been entered. Claim 3 has been canceled. Claims 5 and 6 have been amended. Claims 4, 7-10 and 12-21 were withdrawn by the examiner. Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 11 and 22 are under examination.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Withdrawn Objections and/or Rejections

35 USC § 112, first paragraph - lack of enablement

The rejection of Claims 1-3, 5, 6 and 11 under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, for lack of enablement, is withdrawn, based on Applicant's arguments that reverse cholesterol transport does not occur to a significant extent via the ABC transporter in mammals or birds (page 7, 1 February 2005). In addition, Applicants canceled Claim 3, which had read on methods of disease treatment. This rejection was made at pages 2-6 of the previous Office Action (24 July 2004).

35 USC § 112, first paragraph - Written Description

Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 11 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor, at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 11 and 22 read on a method of inhibiting cholesterol transport across the lumen of the gut of a human or animal, by administering an inhibitor of ABC1. Dependent claims recite sulfonylurea compounds as ABC inhibitors and agents given orally.

The Specification teaches use of glyburide to inhibit ABC1 activity in macrophages. The instant Specification also discusses the critical involvement of the ABC transporter in the WHAM chicken and in Tangier's disease in humans. However, the specification does not teach functional or structural characteristics of the encompassed ABC1 inhibitors. The description of one sulfonylurea compound (glyburide) is not adequate written description of an entire genus of functionally equivalent ABC1 inhibitors. In addition, the use of glyburide does not provide sufficient written-description for the use of all sulfonylurea compounds.

Vas-Cath Inc. v. Mahurkar, 19USPQ2d 1111, clearly states that “applicant must convey with reasonable clarity to those skilled in the art that, as of the filing date sought, he or she was in possession of the invention. The invention is, for purposes of the ‘written description’ inquiry, whatever is now claimed” (See page 1117). The specification does not “clearly allow persons of ordinary skill in the art to recognize that [he or she] invented what is claimed” (See Vas-Cath at page 1116).

With the exception of the single compound referred to above, the skilled artisan cannot envision the detailed chemical structure of the encompassed ABC1 inhibitor, and therefore conception is not achieved until reduction to practice has occurred, regardless of the complexity or simplicity of the methods disclosed. Adequate written description requires more than a mere statement that it is part of the invention and reference to a potential method of using it. The compound itself is required. See Fiers v. Revel, 25 USPQ2d 1601 at 1606 (CAFC 1993) and Amgen Inc. v. Chugai Pharmaceutical Co. Ltd., 18 USPQ2d 1016.

One cannot describe what one has not conceived. See Fiddes v. Baird, 30 USPQ2d 1481 at 1483. In Fiddes, claims directed to mammalian FGF's were found to be unpatentable due to lack of written description for that broad class. The specification provided only the bovine sequence.

Therefore, only use of glyburide, but not the full breadth of the claims meets the written description provision of 35 U.S.C. §112, first paragraph. Applicant is reminded that Vas-Cath makes clear that the written description provision of 35 U.S.C. §112 is severable from its enablement provision (see page 1115).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112, second paragraph-indefiniteness.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 1647

Claim 5 states that the agent acts by "direct drug inhibition" of the activity ABC1 protein. It is not clear from the claim or from the Specification what is meant by this term; similarly, it is not clear how the claimed subject matter from Claim 5 is differentiated from Claim 3, from which the claim depends.

Conclusion

No claims are allowed.

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
